J. M. Harden, An introduction to Ethiopic Christian Literature (1926)

Littmann, following the Russian scholar Turaiev, divides the Abyssinian Saints historically into those of five periods. It would be useless to enumerate here all these Lives, Such as have been published are given in a list at the end of this chapter.

Lutheran Church

Martyrio de Santa Emerayes, 1902. Lâlibalâ prepares workmen and materials to construct the churches on the pattern which he had seen in heaven.

The natural result was that during the centuries that followed, though Geez was still the language of literature and the Church, it was much influenced by Amharic, chiefly in the way of vocabulary, many of the later works containing numerous loan-words borrowed from the kindred dialect. Each of these represents a separate type.

Lutheran Church

King Kâlêb Elesbaan the hero of the wars in South Arabia is also amongst the saints of this period.

The Chronicle comes down to the reign of Bakâffâ 1730.

[PDF] THE ANGLICAN PSALTER

In this in addition to describing the campaigns he gives a description of the Gallas, contrasting them favourably in some respects, especially as to courage, with the men of his own nation see below, p. According to the tradition of the Church the founder of Church-song was Yâred, a contemporary of the 'Nine Saints,' but this is probably mere guess-work.
