- Abstract: National movements need national involvement for its success. It does not spare any social group or class. Students, an important social group, can bring great services to any movement. Their energies, activities, suggestions and sacrifices were behind the success of the movement of Muslims of India for a separate homeland. Muslim nationalist students got conscious of their responsibilities in time and remained involved in the Pakistan Movement. This research paper is an attempt to bring into light the role played by the students of the Punjab from the platform of the Punjab Muslim Student Federation (PMSF). The paper explores how a violence-based province was converted into a Muslim League-based province. It highlights strategies adopted by the PMSF to popularize the idea of Pakistan in the Punjab province. It traces the sacrifices that the students rendered, as well as their stand on national political issues. An important element of the paper is its source material, including the files of gold medals available at archives of the Pakistan Movement Workers Trust. A list of the workers of the Pakistan Movement had been awarded with the gold medals as symbol to recognize their services. These files not only provide first-hand knowledge of the services of the students but are also an evidence of their contribution in the struggle for independence. Second important source is the interviews conducted by the researcher. Most of the elderly citizens of Pakistan responded in a very positive way and the information provided by them has enhanced the response of this study. Third important source material is the newspapers. The researcher had spent long hours in the archives of News & Wage, Punjab Public Library, Lahore, Library of the Museum, Lahore and Library of the University of the Punjab to go through each and every page of multiple newspapers to bring to light each fact regarding student participation in the Pakistan Movement which had been overlooked by the historians.

Pakistan's move to fence Gwadar may intensify the feeling of alienation in Balochistan

And Balochistan has turned into the land of the disappeared. We have made it clear several times that the resources of Balochistan belong to Baloch nation and only Baloch nation has the right to decide about the use of these resources.

Balochistan: Pakistan's land of the disappeared

Disappearances have increased in recent years, activists say, at the same time as militants have launched a string of attacks aimed at undermining Chinese investment -- including an assault on Beijing's consulate in Karachi in 2018. It was a long and arduous process that would take three years, and though she was thousands of miles away from Pakistan, the threats and tragedy still reached her.

Insurgency in Balochistan

Discussions were made about Kalat's relationship with Pakistan as it was formed.

Development of Pak not possible without removing deprivations of Balochistan: Bilawal

Three months before the formation of Pakistan, Muhammed Ali Jinnah had negotiated the freedom of Baluchistan under Kalat from the British. The megaprojects in the coastal areas of Balochistan, including the Gwadar port project, are being used by the army to convert the mineral-rich areas and the port city into Punjabi dominated areas.

How Balochistan became a part of Pakistan

Then her home town in Balochistan was placed under the control of paramilitary forces, a curfew was imposed on the region and mobile services were suspended, all to prevent thousands turning out for her funeral on Monday. Moreover, on year-on-year basis, the security situation in Balochistan has deteriorated significantly, with overall fatalities increasing from 180 in 2019 to 215 in 2020, an increase of 19. Azerbaijan has great oil deposits and we can import oil from Baku at a reasonable rate.

Insurgency in Balochistan

From the last 73 years, Balochistan is fighting a war for its Independence. Colonial thoughts and madness are still in their mind.
