The Making of a Covenant with Men and Women

Poverty is the quality most befitting Israel as the chosen people Ḥag. Lurianic Cabala explained to the exiles the cosmic meaning of their suffering and gave them a crucial role in the cosmic drama of redemption. God acts as the suzerain power and is the party of the covenant accompanied by the required action that comes with the oath whether it be fire or animals in the sacrificial oaths.

The Making of a Covenant with Men and Women

Holding fast to the Old Testament during the formation of the canon preserved Christianity from sliding into Gnosticism and sharpened its awareness that it was anchored in history and in the physicality of the salvation story. Edited by Nathaniel Helfgot Ktav Publishing House New Jersey, 2005 352 pages Reviewed by Simcha Krauss The Rav was so complex a figure that different individuals perceived him in different ways.

Covenant and Community in Modern Judaism by S.Daniel Breslauer

· COMMUNITY AND ETHICS: What is the moral code as promulgated by the religion? He that is born in thy house, and he that is bought with thy money, must needs be circumcised: and my covenant shall be in your flesh for an everlasting covenant.

Community, Covenant and Commitment: Selected Letters and Communications, Rabbi Joseph B. Soloveitchik

But Moses's argument for mercy on both occasions is preceded by, and relies upon, the prior argument: appeal to God's reputation, a function of God's ambitions for the world.

Our Covenant with God

In the case of Noah, God bestows the covenant upon him Genesis 9 , but that bestowal comes after Noah shows his willingness to enter into the partnership by responding to God's request that he build an ark for his family and collect specimens of all the creatures of the earth to preserve them from the flood Genesis 6. Can Jews continue as God's Covenant partners without danger to both God and Israel? Berkeley, CA: University of California Press, 1967.

Covenant and Community in Modern Judaism by S. Daniel Breslauer

When shown a responsum by a non-Orthodox scholar, he reacted as follows: ... I have not read the responsum you sent me on the question of grafting human bone tissue. The most essential of these is a radical monotheism, that is, the belief that a single, transcendent God created the universe and continues providentially to govern it. So the most significant aspects of the covenant — progeny and land — are promised as we begin the story of Abram.

Judaism

Finally, one last viewpoint: Each time the covenant is confirmed and renewed once more, God responds in his unconditional faithfulness to the constantly recurring unfaithfulness of his people.
