State Law and Regulation

The guides and supports nursing practice by creating and implementing the nationally acknowledged code of ethics with interpretive statements. State laws also specify the rights and responsibilities related to health care; determine how, and under what conditions, someone can consent to health care; and specify what is required for informed consent.

NYS Nursing:Laws, Rules & Regulations:Article 139

Major legislative accomplishments achieved by NCNA and the nurses of North Carolina are: March 2, 1903 — NC becomes the first state to pass legislation regarding nursing. The Board recognizes certification by: The American Midwifery Certification Board; American Academy of Nurse Practitioners; National Certification Corporation; Pediatric Nursing Certification Board; National Board of Certification and Recertification for Nurse Anesthetists; American Nurses Credentialing Center; and the American Association of Critical-Care Nurses Certification Corporation for titles recognized in Rules Chapter 410-11.

Nursing Laws and Ethics: What Will I Need to Follow to Become a Nurse?

Practicing without a current and valid license is illegal and it amounts to practicing without a license. A § , except this limitation shall not apply to an APRN that is practicing in the following settings: In a hospital licensed under Title 31; In any college or university as defined in Code Section ; In the Department of Public Health; In any county board of health; In any free health clinic; In a birthing center; In any entity: Which is exempt from federal taxes pursuant to Section 501 c 3 of the Internal Revenue Code, as defined in Code Section , and primarily serves uninsured or indigent Medicaid and Medicare patients; or Which has been established under the authority of or is receiving funds pursuant to b or 254c of the United States Public Health Service Act; In any local board of education which has a school nurse program; or In a health maintenance organization that has an exclusive contract with a medical group practice and arranges for the provision of substantially all physician services to enrollees in health benefits of the health maintenance organization.

What is the BRN?

Some of the common classes taught include Microbiology and Immunology, Nursing Management of Patient Care, Nursing Care of Patients with complex needs, and Professional Issues in Nursing including legal and ethical dilemmas and healthcare policies. Any licensee who fails to renew authorization must apply to reinstate the authorization. The scope of practice for CRNAs is fairly standard, but is not evident in statute in all states.
