The lid keeps the pellets from getting wet in soil and can easily be removed for watering or when rain threatens.

How to Get Rid of Slugs

Ensure you set up the barriers before the first leaves sprout to keep pests off from the beginning. To me, this seems like cruel and unusual punishment.

How to repel slugs?

Every morning keep removing them and refilling the jar with new mixture.

Slugs & Snails: How to Get Rid of Slugs and Snails in the Garden

Check out how you can get these snails and slugs removed, so you no longer have to worry about your garden being eaten alive.

How to repel slugs?

Follow the label directions and repeat as necessary. They quickly chew their signature holes into the leaves of plants, leaving them weak and damaged. You have to reapply the granules after a rain or every two weeks.

How To Stop Slugs Naturally

A large slug population can cause considerable damage to your hostas. The type of copper you can get that will work best on these slugs is a specific type of copper adhesive tape. This method also works on cabbage leaves as snails and slugs love to munch on this type of food as well.
