Omanis who have kept this kind of bees in the cavities of the logs of palm trees also started to keep them in modern hive boxes from the mid-seventies of the last century, and spread this species of bees in all governorates. Honey is harvested twice a year in Oman, once in the summer and again in the winter. Yasir keeps his own bees on his farm in the Hajar Mountains, and when you ask him just one question about bee keeping, you quickly realize how passionate he is about bees.

CAB Direct

It helps to cure cough, throat infection, burns, cuts, and wounds. As we left along the twisty narrow track clinging onto the mountains side, we almost collided with a truck coming the other way, no road rage, just another exchange of blessings and greetings as I learned that this was the ancient beekeeper, returning from a trip to the dentist! The Sidr honey, which is light brown in colour, is also high in demand.
