Справочник мастера по добыче нефти

Техническое диагностирование и экспертное обследование нефтепромыслового оборудования и трубопроводов методами неразрушающего контроля 26. At this stage of the East-Tarkosalinskoe Field development during the period of reduced reservoir pressures, the main factors complicating the operation of the gas-condensate wells are accumulation of liquid water, hydrocarbon condensate at the bottom of the wells, an increase in mechanical impurities in the production stream, as well as hydrates depositing in the well and pipelines.
