Resources

It seeks to impart the values and ideas of Participatory training for social development.

Participatory approaches to rural development

The key impacts and challenges are examined, with the problems of standardisation of methodologies in scaling-up of these types of processes.

Int. Training on Participatory Rural Development

Possible use of new local institutions or strengthening existing ones.

Village participation in rural development

The methodology is process oriented, with emphasis on self- reflection and awareness; and one's own experiences through the journey of life.
