Bristol University Library

A world-class library for a world-class university The University of Bristol has ambitions to build a new University Library at the centre of our Clifton campus.

Arts and Social Sciences Library

Set around a central atrium, the main structure comprises three rectangular blocks with a cantilevered section in one corner from levels four to six. It will be a sustainable, contemporary, welcoming, and fun place to be — while remaining in harmony with the rich traditions and history of its surroundings.

Film and television
