10.4 Personal and Cultural Influences on Aggression

While disrespect is often synonymous with status challenge among young men, the same is not true for girls. Women reported significantly higher levels of fear and gave higher risk estimates than men did. Graphical summary of the present review of factors associated with aggression in women.

10.4 Personal and Cultural Influences on Aggression

Washington DC: National Institute of Justice. Why are men more aggressive than women? Matrilineal inheritance creates a remarkably stable system.

Male Aggression

In almost every society, men are the ones who are overwhelmingly involved in wars, in all kinds of intergroup aggressions, and intragroup homicide. These differences show that cultures vary dramatically in how, and how much, their members aggress against each other.

Men, women, and aggression : Campbell, Anne, 1951

They are at higher risk for engaging in behaviors such as smoking, binge drinking, and sexual risk behaviors. These girls begin their sexual careers earlier, putting them at a significant advantage over their peers. Romantic rivalry is one cause.

Women's aggression

Culture of honor: The psychology of violence in the South.

Men, women, and aggression : Campbell, Anne, 1951

To find out, psychologist and criminologist Anne Campbell listened to the voices of ordinary men and women, as well as people for whom aggression is a central fact of life - robbers and gang members. The occurrence of aggression is still another example of the interaction between person variables and situation variables.

Aggression and Androgens in Women.

Parents buy toy guns for boys and dolls for girls. And can anything be done to change this pattern of violence? The social environment only cultivates and points out these predispositions towards fighting and aggression. I have emphasized the need to avoid escalated aggression if women are to ensure the survival of infants with their high replacement costs.
