50 Cover Songs Better Than the Originals

A lot of our songs are in Spanish and English and use Afro-Caribbean rhythms as well as other traditional rhythms. Some describe the pain of leaving the familiar, while others are about the excitement of coming home after being away for a long time. Illustrations, Index, if any, are included in black and white.

25 Songs About Home (Leaving and Coming Back)

Let me believe that you love as you loved, Long, long ago, long ago. I sang it into my iPhone voice memo over and over again, until I got it just right—which eventually took a few months! By Oppression's woes and pains, By your sons in servile chains! This song gave them comfort.
