Editorial Notes References in Text Section 25 of the Federal Reserve Act, referred to in text, is classified to subchapter I §601 et seq. An article by Elizabeth Bartholet: The US Department of Health and Human Services recently announced that social workers need not see children being monitored in foster care in person, as required by federal law, but can instead use video conferences to reduce the risk of COVID-19. As the novel coronavirus began to spread, school districts quickly shut down, closing facilities and shifting classes online.

Paradoxically, privacy is a public value. We have massive cost overruns with defense contractors, we've got deployment after deployment for our soldiers, and we've got military families on food stamps. In some cases, the absence of a rule is telling: The Agriculture Department, for instance, dropped multiple rules on organic products that were close to being finalized during the Obama administration.
