The web pages are in German and free registration is required. The episcopal palace stands on the outskirt of the town; was built in 1329, and considerably altered and improved since the Reformation; resembles an old baronial castle, with strong military gateway, bastions, broad moat, and embattled wall; includes a chapel of 1236, restored by the late Bishop Bagot; and stands in a plot of 7 acres. English abstracts with Latin transcripts of some entries.
