1911 Canadian federal election

Laurier had been successful at bridging French and English interests to promote a common purpose, while including the West with policies such as railway building. It was a pumpkin scarehead with blazing eyes, a crooked slit for a nose, and a hideous grinning mouth which the fun-loving Champ placed upon a pole along with the Stars and Stripes, the while he carried terror to loyal Canuck hearts by his derisive shout of annexation. Was lernen wir aus der Entwicklungsgeschichte und der Praxis der modernen Demokratie hinsichtlich der Umsetzbarkeit abstrakter Ordnungsvorstellungen? The French Roman Catholics were afraid that English Canadian culture would overwhelm the French Canadian culture and that it would slowly disappear.

Canadian Politics (1885

As Prime Minister, he was instrumental in ushering Canada into the 20th century and in gaining greater autonomy from Britain for his country. The formation of the Conservative Party of Canada out of the Canadian Alliance and the Progressive Conservatives in 2004, along with the collapse of support for the Bloc Québécois in 2011, ended this heavily regionalized period of Canadian politics.

Canadian Electoral System

This became a major competition between the two major powers, which led to both sides looking for an edge. The 1911 election was a traditional two-party election in Canada.

1911 Federal Election in Canada

The Sir Wilfrid Laurier National Historic Site is in his birthplace, , a town 60 km 37 mi north of , Quebec. The growing alienation of from the Conservative Party due to its links with anti-French, anti-Catholic in English Canada aided the Liberal Party.
