Patricia Beer · Poem: 'Small Talk at Wreyland' · LRB 9 February 1995

I venture to suggest that it was part of the ancient forest which was first brought into cultivation after the disafforestation of the county in 1204, and was given by Henry III.

I said it was of no consequence, the straw should be removed, and I would take care that it should not get there again. Enter the name of the series to add the book to it. All the Beauty, Rank and Wealth of the neighbourhood for some miles were present -quite grand for Moreton - indeed I never saw so many persons in Moreton before.

In 1786 he got these sermons published by subscription in six volumes, duodecimo. But some of the spectators thought less about her dancing than her dress. And, when he moved to Wilmead, he built himself a garden there, on the knoll of ground behind the house.

Small Talk at Wreyland

I do not know if these were magic Words of Power, or only little objurations at the wincing of the sufferers. Then on May-day the Queen walks in procession under a canopy of flowers carried by four of the boys, her crown and sceptre being carried by two others ; then come her maids of honour ; and then all the other children of the school, most of them carrying flowers in garlands or on staves. A window was not freed from the tax, unless it was stopped up with stone or brick or plaster; but usually the frame was left, and only needed glazing, when the stopping was removed.
