By educating individuals about the abuse and mistreatment of wild animals in these tourist attractions, we can help end their popularity and protect the welfare of these creatures. Expeditions use a creative blend of imagery, audio, interviews, science project exploration, and interactive activities to engage children and teach them about our worlds ecosystems. If selected, we will guide you through an easy filming process which can be done using any smartphone.

Wonderful World Of Wildlife

Pretend to be a spider catching its lunch — or be a fly trying to get away! Together, we translate, communicate, and disseminate scientific research and teach people the fundamentals of ecology and biology. Our mission is to facilitate nature conservation efforts through science education and communication. We believe it will only be a matter of time before TripAdvisor will also come to realise that it has to end sales to cruel wildlife attractions like elephant shows and SeaWorld where the animals endure a lifetime of abuse and highly stressful training to perform.
