A third collective effort is the construction of a multimedia compact disk on the Zapatistas that draws much of its textual material and many images from The Net while combining them with music and video and other, newly created material.

Consciousness raising: Social media

We believe that the case of Francisco is an example of the Mexican state using the system for the prosecution and delivery of justice to criminalize the support bases of the Zapatista National Liberation Army, as a consequence of their exercise of the right to self-determination and autonomy, based on the Agreement of San Andrés and national reference points established in Article 2 of the Constitution of the Republic in relation to Article 1, as well as international benchmarks, these being ILO Convention no 169 and the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples. The measures now being taken by the Mexican state to counter them also need to be understood in order to be dealt with effectively.
