. The contributors—anthropologists, filmmakers, photographers, and curators—explore the use of montage as a heuristic tool for comparative analysis in anthropological writing, film, and exhibition making.

Gender on the Home Front

More scientific than historical, but interesting essays nonetheless. Wartime needs increased labor demands for both male and female workers, heightened domestic hardships and responsibilities, and intensified pressures for Americans to conform to social and cultural norms.

World War II Shipwrecks in Truk Lagoon: The Role of Interest Groups

The methodological approach that I employ in this research is the ethnography of narration which pays attention to both the act of narrating with all its cultural, social, communicative and emotional power and to the narratives themselves: their form, contents, meaning, function and aesthetics.
