Immigration and Deportation at Ellis Island

Tourists can visit Ellis Island where the main building is now an immigration museum. People in South, where the plantations depended on slavery, wanted to continue the practice. Along with her two younger brothers, the teenager had departed Queenstown, Ireland, on December 20, 1891, aboard the steamship Nevada to start a new life in a new land.

New Life

Most immigrants entered the United States through New York Harbor, although there were other ports of entry in cities such as Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, San Francisco, and New Orleans. It was difficult, backbreaking work.
