So far, a total of 123 states have joined the Convention. For an exploratory case study, the researcher could develop a study that certain war events are more likely to cause PTSD. Deployed opposite them are those who argue that nuclear weapons retain political and military utility for the US and others and will continue to do so for the foreseeable future.

Preventive Arms Control as a Prerequisite for Conversion of Military

. Johnston portrays Chinese strategies vis-a-vis the CTBT as being consistent with China's sensitivity to social pressures affecting issues of reputation, status, honor, and prestige; had China been driven purely by strategic arguments, it would not have accepted the CTBT, which is likely to freeze Chinese warhead modernization at a stage that could impinge on its future refinement. Only diffused laser sources will produce significant speckle pattern.
