Africa: Solidarity in the fight against Covid-19

Under the weight of internal disputes, government repression, and financial hardships, the Council on African Affairs disbanded in 1955. Work on the project is due to start this year, Chen said in an interview with the African News Agency. An important resolution in the joint statement issued by the leaders after the summit was the firm resolution to reject politicization of the pandemic, discrimination and stigmatization, uphold mutual respect between China and African countries, and firmly oppose any form of interference in the internal affairs of each side by external forces.

Vaccine solidarity for poor countries

It will also be essential for African countries to sustain their efforts to silence the guns and address violent extremism — and I welcome African support for my call for a global ceasefire. The silence of these leaders is deafening.

These include the Horn of Africa, the Great Lakes region and the Lake Chad and Sahel regions.

Africa: Strength of China

That is why the current explosion of debt to sustain life will be followed in coming months with debt forgiveness. China's economic miracle also serves as an inspiration, offering lessons that can be learned in Africa. Get a Britannica Premium subscription and gain access to exclusive content.

African exports to Europe, Asia and North America have tanked, investments halted, incomes dropped and capital is fleeing the continent. The values central to Japan's spectacular achievements and rapid elevation to the world's third largest economic power include, but are not limited to, its strong work ethic; entrenched sense of group responsibility; company loyalty; interpersonal trust; implicit contracts that bind individual conduct; and commitment to education and investment in young people.
