Using Activity

The institution has created a 'Coping with COVID-19 Anxiety' checklist and compiled information on creating a schedule, setting up a dedicated work area, staying productive, and looking out for your wellbeing. It is possible that as two comparison schools withdrew from the study one after baseline data collection, there may have been an artificial inflation of the intervention effect.

AAIR Forum 2020

When it offers award courses, they are courses of the University and subject to the standard approval and accreditation processes. Could you give it a trial run and abandon it if unsuccessful? A literature search identified possible informal and formal feedback methods and emerging feedback methods.
