By a curious coincidence from which, however, it would not be legitimate to conclude that there was penetration of influences, we here find the same degeneration with multiplicity, crowding, sketchy treatment of the figures as in the art of the Roman Lower Empire of the fourth and fifth centuries. Like the Graeco-Roman genius, the Chinese genius, on its side of the planet, has created a wisdom, an art, a humanism that are complete. Loo Collection, the central frieze is almost identical, but the hunted animal, wounded by an arrow and facing its pursuer, horns lowered, is a large stag.

Reminiscences of famous Georgians : embracing episodes and incidents in the lives of the great men of the state : vol. I

Stephens has conquered suffering and made himself strong and noble by entering heartily into the sweet charities of life. With as little impunity could a king of Judah have robbed the temple and invaded the holiest of holies. There were grounds for believing that their house—which assumed the imperial title of the Chin dynasty and was to last from 265 to 420—would restore the Pax Sinica of the Han period.

ENGLISH LITERATURE

We therefore find in the Arthurian cycle something very much analogous to the Tale of Troy.

ENGLISH LITERATURE

After a succession of battles he was overcome by the Franks, but--and now we enter a legendary region once more--not until a gigantic nephew of Hygelac had performed heroic feats of valor, and had saved the remnants of the host by a marvelous feat of swimming. Human emotion is indeed their theme; but it is the phases of passion in living, acting, and conflicting personalities which the drama undertakes to depict.

By virtue of these various functions, his 'chieftainship' is essentially 'calendrical', his powers, his 'heavenly mandate' (fien ming), being derived from the observation of the stars. When he lay dying at his home in Washington some one at his bedside whom he charged to keep him posted upon the happenings of the day, told him that the Georgia Legislature was still sitting. The literature which they brought to England is remarkable for its bright, romantic tales of love and adventure, in marked contrast with the strength and somberness of Anglo-Saxon poetry.

Stephens at the close of the war remained on the place; and when they became too old and feeble to care for themselves he saw that they fared as comfortably as when they were able to work. Most of the negroes who were owned by Mr. Ictinus designs the Parthenon, and Mnesicles the Propylæa; Pheidias completes the development of sculpture in his statue of Athene, his pediment and friezes of the Parthenon, his chryselephantine image of Zeus at Olympia, his marble Nemesis upon the plain of Marathon.
