Because much of the funding for hospitals and much of the reimbursement for office practice comes from Medicare, federal statutes and regulations and policies from the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services CMS have great impact on the interest of hospitals and medical practices in having NP providers.

Code of Ethics

Prejudice and discrimination race, ethnicity, beliefs, sexual orientation and others , intellectual ability, social standing, or favors received from them or parents. Bayles, Professional Ethics , Belmont, CA: Wadsworth Inc. Other professionals may also claim that theirs is the noblest profession but the truth remains that without the teacher, there can be no lawyer , doctor, engineer or even priest for it is a teacher who trained them to be such.

Professional Ethics

Teaching must become a discussible topic to challenge what is taken for granted. DCs have broad diagnostic skills and are also trained to recommend therapeutic and rehabilitative exercises, as well as to provide nutritional, lifestyle and dietary counseling. It is natural for professionals to elevate the primary concerns of their particular professions to predominant status, even when they are opposed by values equally prominent in our common moral framework.
