Prescription Drug Advertising

While consistency in data privacy regulations across Europe is good news for all marketers, GDPR also comes with quite a few challenges that impact marketing teams — especially marketing teams that communicate to customers based in the EU.

Types of Consumer Promotions

You are breaking the law if you do. Why leverage deals and offers for your business? For example, instead of assuming that visitors who want to receive marketing emails from left , we now ask visitors to specifically opt-in to newsletters by ticking the sign up box right. I understand GDPR is all about enabling users to completely removing themselves from a company's database.

Consumer Promotions

GDPR is the most far-reaching change to data protection in a generation and is a dramatic shift in the way the EU wants personal data to be managed.

Consumer Brochures

Such variables as interests in hunting, attitudes toward gender equality, and opinions on the importance of stylish clothing can be used to better understand consumer behavior.
