The Franklin expedition to His Grace the Duke of Newcastle, secretary of state for the colonies

I am going to say one word of sympathy for Japan. He was Under-Secretary of State for the Colonies and President of the Board of Control, overseeing the East India Company during the Great Rebellion of India. Some observers reported a mounted British officer firing first.

Some say that the officers of the four independent companies of fusileers in New-York live like military monks in idleness and luxury. With this exception, the assembly proceeded with apparent calmness to make just and proper appropriations for various objects, such as the employment of a corps of rangers to traverse the northern border, and for repairing sundry forts.

His political opinions; his admiration for the English Constitution; thinks America in greater danger from Popular Licentiousness than from any abuse in their governors, though some of them have been bad enough. Proportion of deaths much fewer than in 1730; thinks this due to the purging method designed to prevent the secondary fever. The outnumbered regulars fell back from the bridge and rejoined the main body of British forces in Concord.

These are easily, and have been continually, instigated to fall upon and massacre our planters, even in times of full peace between the two crowns, to the certain diminution of our people and the contraction of our settlements. I believe myself to be what is called a good European, and deem it a noble task to take part in reviving the fertile genius and in restoring the true greatness of Europe.
