This article may be in need of reorganization to comply with Wikipedia's. Iran's representative asserted that dealing with the issue in the Security Council was unwarranted and void of any legal basis or practical utility because its peaceful nuclear program posed no threat to international peace and security, and, that it ran counter to the views of the majority of United Nations Member States, which the council was obliged to represent. The IAEA immediately sought access to these facilities and further information and co-operation from Iran regarding its nuclear program.

Avec Ebrahim Raïssi, l'Iran restreint les possibilités de négociation sur le nucléaire

Iran said it did not address the alleged studies in the IAEA work plan because they were not included in the plan. The IAEA visits included undeclared facilities and Iran's nascent uranium mining project at Saghand.
