I summon a girl who is dreaming in the little gilded house; she meets me on the piles of black moss and offers me her lips which are stones in the rapid river depths.

André Breton

I love that blue fly streaking in the sky at the hour when the stars hum their song. Evidently, the focus here is narrow, the goal being to give clearer definition to the intellectual state of a young man emerging from doubt--and so from self-doubt--into renewed confidence in his poetic calling. Gold and eucalyptus, similarly scented, attack dreams.
