The New Southwark Plan

The south of the borough is the upper valley of a present sewer and surface water drainage basin, once a large stream the , in large part converted to a combined sewer under a -engineered reform following general urbanisation; all combined and public foul sewers drain far to the east to the . The nearest car park is in Great Suffolk Street and is run by Union Car Parks. However, these challenges are not unique to Southwark, so to truly address these issues we need change on a national scale, which can only be achieved by a Labour Government.

The rebuilt Southwark has many literary associations. Pocket Living, however, want to make up their own rules. Pocket Living simply ignores this, so the planning committee should reject this application.

Housing

The London Borough of Southwark was formed in 1965 from the former area of the , the , and the . We also know Southwark is not alone in these challenges - nine years of a hopeless Tory government has meant that as a country we are significantly behind on delivering the new council homes needed with an additional 3. ### North Southwark Plan (Hansard, 20 March 1986)

Due to a number of circumstances arising from the current lockdown, it has been necessary to significantly amend the hearings programme. We want to give partners and other key stakeholders an opportunity to comment on the proposed changes, and to highlight any other changes you think are required to respond to the new challenges with the pandemic. Hearing statements All written statements in response to the Inspector's Matters, Issues and Questions 7.

Southwark's great estates

The original plan for the Extension did not include a station between those at Waterloo and London Bridge; Southwark station was added after lobbying by the local council, it is in fact sited right next to the borough's boundary with at Joane Street.
