Mary Helleiner Obituary

For anyone interested in the intersection of international relations and international economics, this is a feast of scholarship and ideas. Rest in peace at last with your Chris, Mary.

The Neomercantilists: A Global Intellectual History

My condolences to Uncle Gerry, Jane, Eric, Peter and your families. JSTOR provides a digital archive of the print version of International Affairs.

Institute for New Economic Thinking

Helleiner argues that this strangely conservative result was generated partly by the structural power and active policy choices of the country at the center of the crisis: the United States. All this renders the present volume, which brings together not just economists but also historians and political scientists, timely and important. Dachia Joudrey March 8, 2020 Sending along deepest sympathy on the recent passing of Mary.

The Neomercantilists: A Global Intellectual History

I hope after your grieving, you will find comfort in remembering the many wonderful times you shared with your mother, grandmother and great-grandmother. Her smile lit up a room. Although I had not seen her in many years, I do have very vivid childhood memories of time shared with her.

Eric Helleiner

There is still much work to be done. I wish we could have played again as well.

Sabbaticals in Sussex and Oxford were further highlights. It is my hope that you all can find peace in this loss by recalling great memories you have of your parents.

It should be read by members of both disciplines and everyone else interested in the future of the international monetary system. Founded by and edited at the Royal Institute of International Affairs in London, it has not only developed a much valued insight into European policy debates but has also become renowned for its coverage of global policy issues. This immensely important book provides a sobering analysis of how little has been done since the global financial crisis to change the workings and regulation of the world economy and financial markets.

Georgia HELLEINER Obituary (2020)

As a faculty member at Dalhousie Law School I knew her as a student and later in her professional role as Executive Director of the NS Law Foundation. Worse still, while there have been pockets of reform that deserve merit, Helleiner demonstrates that little has been done to reform the system so as to prevent the next crisis. It saddens me that that garden is gone now, but the inspiration they gave others is not.
