Nez Percé Indian Chiefs and Leaders

This is not my judgment, but the unbiased opinion of men whose knowledge and experience fit them to render it. Surrounded by the Wallowa Mountains, the property rights include the house near Airport Road built in 1884, barns, grassland and Wallowa River frontage where the Nez Perce would camp and catch sockeye salmon. However, this was extremely unfair to the Nez Perce tribe.

Chief Joseph: A great Nez Perce Leader

However, in order to be truly informed one has to known what Chief Joseph did next.

Chief Joseph's surrender speech

Give them the same law. His grave, marked by a large monument, is in Nespelem, Washington. The because the reservation included the band's Wallowa homeland and almost all of the other areas in present day Oregon, Washington, and Idaho where the band roamed.

Heinmot Tooyalakekt (Chief Joseph) (1840

These men were very kind.
