This is racing: Tactics and strategy in action: Creagh

The difference between a full wet setup and a medium setup in a torrential downpour is 5-6 seconds per lap in favour of the full wet. These terms are used very often, when we talk about competition among firms at the market.

Tactics and Strategy

Keep reading our horse betting guides to hone your skills Getting the best out of an in play horse racing strategy takes some learning and time. A horse that is even money before the off can quickly go odds-on in a matter of strides, presumably just because it has jumped off on terms. Tack when headed to the median.
