Police (Northern Ireland) Bill: 8 Nov 2000: House of Lords debates

On 8 May 2007, devolved government returned to Northern Ireland. Important in this respect are the powers vested in judicial commissioners under the. By October 1920, according to UK government sources, 117 RIC members had been killed and 185 wounded.

Brian M Walker: Why no unionist MP voted for the creation of Northern Ireland 100 years ago

It is not a catalogue of what individuals may or may not do to each other. The Bill provides for further provisions for policing in Northern Ireland and it is by no means an unimportant matter.

Police Professional

Gentleman is absolutely right, however, to ask who initiated the increased powers for the ombudsman and the change in the composition of the DPPs. Lady and, as I hope is my wont, to give her a frank and honest answer. They simply want to do their jobs.

Parsing the backstop: Northern Ireland and the Good Friday Agreement in the Brexit debates

These talks led to the of 1998. I hope that the Minister can respond in favourable and positive terms. The Union Flag and the Ulster Banner are used exclusively by unionists.
