In all, about 600 plants are covered, along with some animals and mineral substances, and around 1000 medicines made from them.

Thomas Bewick 1753

Bewick's were illustrations made from engravings, containing the name or initials of the book's owner.

Thomas Bewick 1753

Given the success of the 1797 publication of his bird illustrations, Bewick started work at once on the second volume, Water Birds, but the disagreement over authorship led to a final split with Beilby. Taken as a drink too often it hurts making men lethargic and it kills. And why has it all happened? Bewick was helped by his intimate knowledge of the habits of animals acquired during his frequent excursions into the country.

Thomas Bewick (1753)

Bewick, still lively at age 74, showed him the woodcut he was working on, a dog afraid of tree stumps that seem in the dark to be devilish figures, and gave Audubon a copy of his Quadrupeds for his children.
