SOUTHWARK BOARD OF GUARDIANS

He is an excellent delineator of architecture, his drawing and perspective being admirably executed. In 1273, Walter, Archbishop of York, granted an indulgence of thirty days to all who should contribute to the rebuilding of the sacred edifice, and towards the end of the following century the church was entirely rebuilt.

Southwark, Greater London, England

No sooner had the old man—so runs the story—been decently laid out, than those about him fell to feasting and making merry, rejoicing at the death of the old sinner, who, stretched in apparent death, bore their rioting for a short time, but at length sprang from his bed, and, seizing the first weapon at hand, attacked his apprentice. These chaplains are neither presented nor inducted like the incumbents of parishes in general. The site is now mostly a park plus some apartment blocks.
