Maps

Index Sheet 82 - BRITISH COLUMBIA - Alberta 1984, Geological Map of Canada Series, n. As shelf sediments are recorded from almost the entire northwestern Karoo Basin it is anticipated that bar formation was an important sedimentary factor in the deposition of the sediments now referred to as the Ecca-Beaufort transition zone. During fractional melting of adiabatically upwelling mantle, a range of magmas are produced, including highly depleted compositions in the uppermost part of the mantle column ;,
