Hearing Assistive Technology Systems (HATS) for Children

Children with listening difficulties due to hearing loss or auditory processing problems continue to be an underidentified and underserved population.

Society for the Welfare of Disabled: Office of The State Commissioner for Persons with Disabilities

Action: Notice of Policy Guidance. Summary: The Department provides additional guidance about part B of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act IDEA and section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 section 504 as they relate to the provision of appropriate education service to students who are deaf. However, they might still struggle to communicate and speak normally.

Characteristics of Hearing Impairment and Deafness in Children

B The district, following the universal screening procedures it conducted, shall convene a school-based team to analyze screening data and progress monitoring data to assist teachers in planning and implementing appropriate instruction and evidence-based interventions for all students who, based on the screening, are at risk of experiencing academic difficulties, including those students who exhibit the characteristics of dyslexia, as provided by the department. Components of evidence-based reading instruction include instruction targeting phonemic awareness, phonics, fluency, vocabulary, and comprehension.
