Trees, Shrubs, Palms, and Cycads

The Foothills life zone occurs from 5,500 to 8,000 feet and is dominated by dry land shrubs such as Gambel oak and mountain-mahogany, and in southern and western Colorado, piñon-juniper woodlands and sagebrush. They also serve as wildlife habitat for local animals, and are more resistant to harmful pests.

Urban Landscape Inspirations from Native Plant Communities

If a tree is not sold in the trade, asking for it may help increase its availability.

Plants

Pampas grass is the most widely recognized ornamental grass. When trees are located in a planting of lawn, groundcover, herbaceous perennials, or annual flowers, their water requirements will be met by the estimated water requirement of the surrounding planting.

Native Trees for Colorado Landscapes

They are divided into 12 groups. Contact a professional landscaper to help you come up with a planting plan that will complement your home, lifestyle and climate conditions.

Plants

In addition to sunny open locations, selected ground covers are especially useful on steep slopes and densely shaded areas where other plants are more difficult to establish and maintain. Most bushes are easy to care for and will remain attractive for long periods of time with minimal effort.
