What we want now is a study in depth of interests and motivations. I never had the pleasure of visiting your fair State. My impression of the Citizens' Advisory Committee on school integration is that, first of all, its responsibility was to develop policy positions on school integration which could be referred to the board of education for their consideration and possible adoption; secondly, to provide assistance to the staff of the Los Angeles Unified School District in providing community input as to the needs, the problems which have to be taken care of in developing an implementation program; and, thirdly, to provide an opportunity for preparation of the community for the acceptance, first, of the concept of integration and, second, for the implementation of any program or plan which may ultimately be developed.

Approaches to Studying Public Library Networked Community Information Initiatives: A Review of the Literature and Overview of a Current Study

A communication system approach to the problem of public library legitimacy

It will then mention a few more studies which describe the functions of differing types of libraries. Yet these kinds of institutional analyses call out strongly for further scholarly attention and development, as they may overcome key stumbling blocks which constrain mainstream social scientific research on TV and other media. Of the population over 65, the oldest group grew at a much faster rate than the younger elderly — over the decade the increase in those who had passed their 75th birthday was 37.

Abstracts from the 36th Annual Meeting of the Society of General Internal Medicine

Alan Robinson set forth a challenge to librarians in a statement at the 1963 Institute on Reading Improvement for Adults: Libraries are not only obliged to participate in adult reading improvement programs, they are obliged to activate them. Of 14 QUADAS criteria, eight were fulfilled by over 90 % of studies, five by 60—80 %, and one by 22 %. This is to be expected because a person would have no reason to write a theoretical work if he were in agreement with the views expressed in the works of others.
