Church has Latin cross plan with a nave and two aisles ending by semi-circular apse. It was during the 16th century that Calabria would contribute to modern world history with the creation of the by the Calabrian doctor and astronomer.

Garibaldi takes Palermo

The monument stands in a small square, where two wrought iron lampposts in the shape of a vessel are placed at the ends. The 485 miles 781 kilometres of its coast make Calabria a tourist destination during the summer.

The Neapolitans very soon gave way; but their left wing, in the hills, held out against the few men of Garibaldi's advanced guard until Missori's men came up and drove them in. The spurs of the hill run down to the coast, where they descend toward the sea in steep and irregularly broken rocks.

Research the Panorama

During the Pyrrhic War 280—275 BC the Lucanians and Brutii sided with Pyrrhus and provided contingents which fought with his army. Garibaldi led occasional campaigns for Victor Emmanuel up to 1871, but then retired to Caprera.
