THE PIGOTT FAMILY OF QUEEN'S COUNTY, IRELAND; SOME ANCESTRAL CONNECTIONS.: 2013

Unfortunately, inexperienced and excited as I was, I resumed my progress, on the track too, thinking that, he had abandoned the pursuit;--the space between us, now, being so great.

Waterford

On John GAMBLE's side it was alleged that he had been verbally and in writing recognised as heir-at-law to his uncle, and that the will in favour of Mrs LASSEUR, Edith HENDERSON and Sarah PEIRCE had been obtained by undue influence, and that the decree invalidating the marriage of his father and mother had been obtained by collusion of the parties. Maude Frances PHAYRE, born about 1860; she does not appear in Census returns with this family; she was married at Newington, Surrey, 1 June 1884, to Thomas Chapman HUMBY; he was married secondly, as a Bachelor, 1 February 1887, to Hannah HUNT.

This collection remains in the order received from the auction house, and by permission, uses edited descriptions provided by them. If the belief is correct, this connection may explain the safety of Colonel Townesend's life and lands through so many perilous times; and some relations of the Hydes did become enriched by forfeited lands. My hair has always been a dark red, auburn.
