University of Manitoba Archives Special Collections, the Libraries. Other events had an equally significant impact. Similar to the Prairies, the water basins across the NWT are large and highly interconnected.

History of Settlement in the Canadian Prairies

Potato industry Potato Innovation Network PIN 2020 was initiated in 2006 to support development of new markets, and new uses for potatoes in market diversification. Throughout the last century, the region has also steadily lost residents, as a result of migration to other parts of Canada, to the United States, and elsewhere. Scorching temperatures and little to no rainfall have left crops in poor condition across wide swaths of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

Settling the West: Immigration to the Prairies from 1867 to 1914

Given the proposed schedule to design and build the projects, capital costs could be distributed across a ten-year build period.
