I am getting busy living and praying for God to move mountains and doors to open for this Breast Cancer Support Group to come about. But if it does, it is not likely to affect how long you live.

Women with newly diagnosed breast cancer and their perceptions of needs in a health

Will the type of breast surgery I have affect how long I live? With all three surgeries, you may need more surgery to remove lymph nodes from under your arm. If you have flap surgery, you may lose strength in the part of your body where a muscle was removed. Breast-Sparing Surgery Most women with DCIS or breast cancer can choose to have breast-sparing surgery, usually followed by radiation therapy.
